

Long-time PAMLE corporate sponsor, Horace Mann, is offering an exciting new event for educators!

Horace Mann recently hosted its free Virtual Speaker Series for educators – an all-star lineup of presenters that gave educators the inspiration, motivation and empowerment they deserve.

The speakers were so well received that they're now offering their sessions on-demand so their incredible messages and stories can reach even more educators. These presentations are at cost to you or your staff.

Your Money & Your Life:
Where do you go from here?
Presented by Jean Chatzky

Today Show financial editor Jean Chatzky believes it's completely possible to "create the lives we want, support the people we love and stress a little less." Jean has made it her mission to simplify money matters by increasing financial literacy and will tell educators the moves to make now to help ensure a life of financial comfort.

Harnessing the Headwinds of Change
Presented by Nicole Malachowski

Col. Nicole Malachowski, USAF (Ret.), defies stereotypes as a combat veteran with a distinguished 21-year Air Force career. After prevailing against a tick-borne illness that left her struggling to speak or walk for almost nine months, Nicole's story will inspire educators to rethink their challenges and go beyond resilience to resurgence. And as a mother of two, Nicole shares her deep appreciation for educators and the work they do for children and communities.

These presentations are a positive way to wrap up the school year and leave your staff feeling appreciated and inspired as they head into summer break.
